

Hear from our CSI recruits

139

In 2017, 139 graduates were successfully hired from students studying in US and Canada through the CSI programme.

Helen Cheng Manager, Advisory

Starting my career with PwC Hong Kong after graduating in the US was without doubt one of the best decisions I've made. In addition to making some life-long friendships and connecting with an amazing network of talent, the tremendous resources available to support my personal and professional growth have actually exceeded my expectations!

Sherry Yang Senior Associate, Tax

As a graduate with a major in accounting, PwC was my first choice. Through CSI, I had my interview in the US while I was still studying without the hassle of having to travel back to China. Working in the Beijing office, I learned a great deal while helping provide customised solutions to many different Chinese clients. PwC really does provide graduates with lots of learning and development opportunities. I hope you come and join us!

John Ren Associate, Assurance

What I like most about PwC is the diversity of PwC network. I had chances to work with PwCers around the world in the past two years. It's amazing the way that people who have different background, and live in exactly opposite time zone are able to come together, set aside their differences and contribute to something greater than themselves.

The opportunity of a lifetime

Working in Mainland China & Hong Kong

Economic growth has continue to remain strong in the Asia Pacific region. This has created many exciting career opportunities in the professional services for local and international talent. As the leading professional services firm in the Asia Pacific region, we bring together the right skills and talent to help our clients solve important problems and challenges.

Our clients and people want to work with those that they like and trust; that comes from the lasting relationships we build and our day-to-day behaviours. That's why we look for talented, enterprising and intellectually curious individuals, who can deliver results, are passionate about what they do.

China Sourcing Initiative (CSI) was launched in 2007 to attract international talent to work in our Mainland China and Hong Kong firms. Through CSI, our dedicated PwC Mainland China and Hong Kong recruitment professionals based in the US, look to recruit individuals with international experience, local knowledge and Chinese language skills.
